

Mayoral Proclamation

WHEREAS, Kelly Anna McAllister was born on April 2, 1989 at Swedish American Hospital in Rockford, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Kelly is a smart, active and happy young woman who was born with intellectual and developmental disabilities, and she and her family moved to Wisconsin in 2002 and selected Brookfield because of the proximity to Fairview South School in the Elmbrook School District; and

WHEREAS, Kelly attended Fairview South School until age 21 where she made many friends, won medals competing in Special Olympics and was selected as Homecoming Queen in her final school year; and

WHEREAS, Kelly worked at Easter Seals in Waukesha for seven years, and currently works at Pantheon Industries in New Berlin three days per week and at Mod Pizza in Pewaukee the other two; and

WHEREAS, Kelly participates in a yoga session each week and is an active member of St. John Vianney Church in Brookfield where she attends Mass every weekend; and

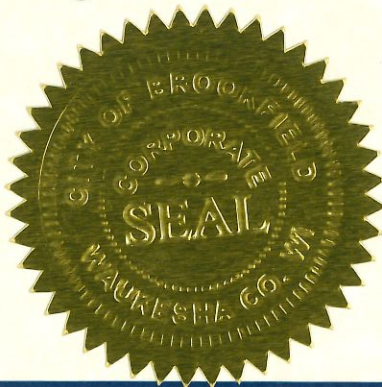

WHEREAS, Kelly is planning for the next chapter in her life in which she will live in a St. Coletta of Wisconsin community based residential facility called Grace Landing to be built in the heart of Brookfield, and which will include three, 8-bedroom homes; and

WHEREAS, Kelly and others are participating in a groundbreaking for Grace Landing today;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Steven V. Ponto, Mayor, do hereby designate this day:

KELLY ANNA McALLISTER DAY

in the City of Brookfield and thank her for her role in making this groundbreaking a reality, and wish her and the others who will live at Grace Landing a very happy and fulfilling life.

Signed and sealed the 18th day of June,
in the year Two Thousand and Twenty.

Steven V. Ponto, MAYOR
City of Brookfield
